Dyson customer care

If you have a question about your Dyson personal purifying fan, call the Dyson Helpline with your serial number and details of where and when you bought the machine, or contact us through the Dyson website.

Getting started

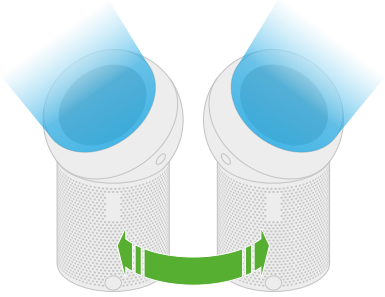

Filter information

Power

Airflow speed

Oscillation

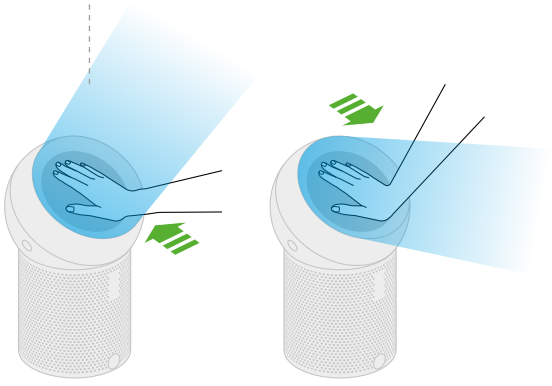

Press the Oscillation button on the remote control to circulate the air around the room.

Press the Oscillation button again to turn oscillation off.

Sleep timer

Your Dyson personal purifying fan will turn off automatically after the selected amount of time.

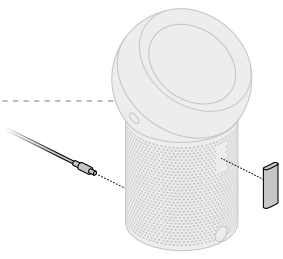

To set the time: press the Sleep timer button to scroll through the time options.

Airflow direction
To change the direction of airflow, place your hand on the dome.

Slide the dome away from you to move the airflow upwards.

Slide the dome towards you to move the airflow downwards.

Your remote control can be stored, magnetically, on the front of your Dyson personal purifying fan.

Plug in and press the power button at the back of your machine.

Changing your filter

To always get the best performance from your Dyson personal purifying fan, it is important to regularly clean it and check for blockages.

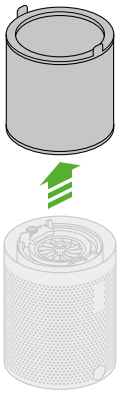

Do not use your machine without the filter in place.

1

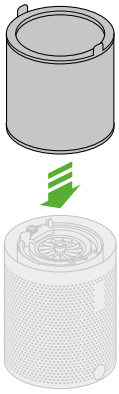

Push the side buttons at the same time to release the ball.

2

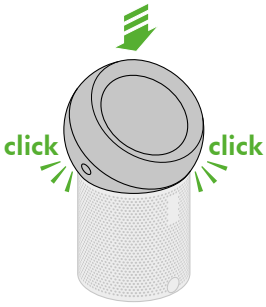

Lift out your old filter using its tabs.

3

Insert your new filter.

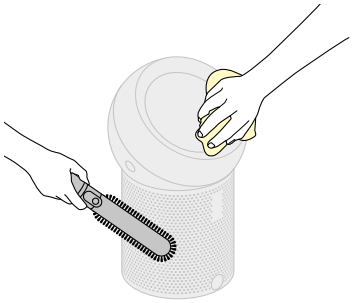

4

Firmly push the ball back into position, making sure it clicks securely into place.

Looking after your machine

To always get the best performance from your Dyson personal purifying fan, it is important to regularly clean it and check for blockages.

Cleaning your Dyson personal purifying fan

Regular clean
Brush the outside of your machine with a soft brush to remove any debris from the mesh.

Use a soft, dry, lint-free cloth to clean the ball and dome.

Deep clean
When changing your filter, give your machine a thorough clean.

With the filter removed, use a Dyson's Flexi crevice tool (or long-handled, clean, paintbrush) to remove any debris from the base of the machine.

Error codes
If your machine shows an error code, try turning it off and then on again. If this does not clear the error code contact Dyson Customer Care.
